Our Technology

Our laboratory is powered by a world-class technological infrastructure, utilizing leading Abbott solutions for comprehensive hematology, biochemistry, immunoassay, and hormonal testing. These are supported by advanced Beckman Coulter systems as a robust backup to ensure seamless service continuity and precision across all conditions. Furthermore, we employ specialized Stago systems, the global gold standard for coagulation studies. This entire diagnostic ecosystem is fully integrated via an automated interface with a sophisticated Laboratory Information System (LIS), such as Rabicana, ensuring seamless data flow, maximum accuracy, and rapid turnaround times.
